

Exclusive?!

Cosima Carter is a fiercely independent director determined to make her mark in a male-dominated film industry. Just as she's about to shoot her first feature film, she meets Jake Giles — irresistible, confident, and entirely distracting.

What begins as flirtation quickly spirals into late-night conversations, stolen kisses, and a connection that's impossible to ignore. But Jake isn't ready to commit, and Cosima isn't willing to compromise her independence — or her ♥.

As the cameras roll, so does their chemistry.

Between script notes, tight deadlines, and sleepless nights, Cosima must navigate her set, her ambition, and the messy reality of feelings she swore she didn't have time for.

Will their bond survive the pressure of big expectations and old emotional walls, or will it all fall apart before the final cut?

Exclusive?! is a sizzling, heartfelt romance about taking risks, following your heart, and discovering that sometimes the most exclusive story of all is the one you dare to write for yourself.
